at Field School

If you have a passion for reading books and talking about them with Field School friends, come join us!

At our next book club discussion, we will be discussing The Boy, the Bird, and the Coffin Maker by Matilda Woods

“When a devastating plague sweeps through his little town, Alberto loses his whole family and the once happy and successful furniture-maker now applies his care and skill to making coffins. But when a mysteriously silent boy appears, Alberto’s life transforms. Their remarkable friendship brings unimaginable dangers – and this good but ordinary man must find extraordinary courage to save his friend.”
