

Practical strategies to promote the “Responsive” approach at home

The tools of Responsive Classroom can be used at home, too! These research based practices have been designed to teach social and emotional competencies, increase academic achievement and reduce anxiety and depression.

Open to Country, Field and Woodland parents, guardians and caregivers. We are offering this workshop several times over the course of the year, hoping that one of these dates will work for you. Feel free to attend any of the sessions, regardless of your school.

Thursday, February 6th 9:00am-11:00am, Woodland School Library

Thursday, February 27th 9:00am-11:00am, Country School Star Lab

Join us and learn useful tips for creating a “Responsive Home” including:

- Positive Language
- Family Meeting
- House Rules
- Logical Consequences
- Interactive Modeling

For questions, please contact Amy Kelly, Director of District Advancement, kellya@weston.org