

ALCOHOL CONSUMPTION ON SCHOOL APPROVED TRIPS OR TRAVEL

Students on school-approved field trips or travel are to observe the same rules of behavior as if they were on school campus, and thus may not consume alcohol, even when in foreign countries where they are legally permitted to drink.

Faculty members or other adults chaperoning school-approved field trips or travel should consider themselves on duty and responsible for the well-being of the students in their charge. While interacting with students on such field trips, or travel, no faculty members or other adult chaperones should consume alcohol.

Reviewed: November 21, 2011

Reviewed: November 7, 2022